

M. G. Cruickshank To Head Curlers For '38-'39 Season

Curling Club Re-organizes For Winter; New Executive Takes Over Offices

M. G. Cruickshank was elected president of the Lacombe Curling Club for the ensuing year when enthusiasts of the game held their annual meeting on Monday evening. Harry Teare is first vice-president and A. M. Frizell second vice-president. A. E. Bowring will take over the duties of the secretary-treasurer. Rev. A. L. Carr was appointed chaplain. The executive will be composed of Dave Hay, L. Winters, C. Irish, S. Fraser, H. E. Wilson and J. MacDonald.

The retiring president, W. G. Sage, thanked the members for their support during his term of office.

Treasurer's report shows a tidy balance of $65 to begin the season's sport, with only $17 arrears of dues to be collected, a nice tribute to the former secretary, C. E. Todd, and last year's executive.

I. O. Irish was appointed caretaker of the Curling Rink at an executive meeting of the club held Tuesday night. Mr. Irish will be in charge of providing ice for the curlers.

R. Lewis Re-Elected President of Hockey Club

Bob Lewis was re-elected president of the Lacombe Hockey Club at the annual meeting of the organization held in the Town Hall Monday night. Dick Scholton will serve another term as vice-president of the club and E. L. Martin retains the office of secretary-treasurer. It was decided to curtail the executive to these three officials, and do with the usual executive committee.

Councillor T. Wilks appeared before the meeting and extended an invitation to the executive to meet the Town Council at its regular meeting next Tuesday night, at which time difficulties concerning the hockey rink might be settled.

WILL RECEIVE

Mrs. Stewart Fraser will be at home on Tuesday, Nov. 15, afternoon and evening.

St. Andrews' Chicken Supper Well Attended

Sponsored by the St. Andrews' Ladies' Guild, one of the most successful church dinners given in Lacombe for some years was held in St. Andrews' Church Hall on Wednesday evening. It was largely attended and was followed by a varied and delightfully interesting program. The Guild's funds were augmented by approximately $85.

H. J. Ford led a rousing sing song when supper was concluded, followed by a guitar duet by Miss Claire Abbott and Lou Chapin, and a lovely vocal solo by Mrs. T. N. Lett. L. Frizell gave a laughable monologue.

Creating a real stir of interest was a Professor Quiz Period, in which two teams of six members each—one from the Young Women's Auxiliary and one representing the Board of Managers—competed for the prize of $5.00 offered by the Guild. In the role of Professor Quiz was J. S. McCormick and Scorekeeper E. G. Hale of Blackfalds awarded the prize to the young ladies, who made 100 points against the men's 106 points.

Dr. W. G. Carpenter of the Calgary Technical School spoke on the changing methods of teaching.

Dr. E. M. Sharpe officiated as chairman.

Educationist Endorses Larger School Unit at Teachers' Convention

Principal of Edmonton Normal School Backs Government in Its Education Changes; 149 Teachers in Attendance

"I am one hundred per cent in favor of the enlarged school unit," emphatically declared Geo. Haversock, principal of the Edmonton Normal School, as he concluded a lengthy address to an assembly of 149 teachers of the Red Deer Inspectorate, gathered in annual convention in Lacombe on Wednesday, Nov. 9.

Addresses of welcome were extended by B. S. Cameron, Town Councillor; J. S. McCormick, Chairman of the School Board, and George Findlay, President of the Teachers' Association.

Mr. Haversock paid high tribute to Premier Aberhart as Educational Minister. No other province, he said, has a man who has done more for education. Although the enlarged units were not formed primarily for the purpose of saving expenses, yet the eleven units put into operation since 1936 each showed reduced operating costs over the old system, called the spread-out.

Teachers in the larger areas are not less responsible to the local trustees, said Mr. Haversock, but should show a real spirit of co-operation with the parents of their school districts.

New Methods of Teaching Spending on "Educational Policies," Mr. Haversock said that the period of transition from the old technique of teaching to the new methods would take time; that schools would need to undergo a change—more workshops, more libraries, more laboratories, etc., would be needed to give all types of children the training necessary to properly equip them. The school does not change the process of learning, but must adapt itself to that process, and the Professor of Education should aim at creative initiative in the child and helping him to live the present time (not some future time) in the fullest manner.

The speaker felt that in time intermediate and High School centres would be established throughout the rural areas, which would provide greater educational facilities for rural students.

Two enterprise demonstrations were given in the afternoon, the first by E. Castella of Dickson, who chose as his subject "Canada at Work," and the second by Miss Mary Grant of Lacombe, whose subject was "Water and Life," both demonstrating the variety of activities which may be studied and worked out by the children under these headings.

Youth Training School To Be Held in Lacombe

Donald Cameron, Acting Director of Extension, University of Alberta, Edmonton, was in Lacombe yesterday (Wednesday), making tentative arrangements for the Youth Training Short Course School for Girls and Boys, which he informed the Globes would be held in Lacombe from Jan. 4 to Jan. 21, 1939, inclusive.

He stated that some misunderstanding existed with some of the students attending the school last year, feeling they were barred from attending this year. This is not the case, as an entirely new second year course will be given those who took the first year course last year.

The districts to be served from the Lacombe School are: East to Alix, West to Riverview, North to Wetaskiwin, and South to Calgary.

The Lacombe and District Board of Trade will again assist in making the necessary arrangements for accommodation and other details. Other information regarding the school will be published later.

Cabinet Ministers Appeal For Support To Monetary Reform Movements Here

Dr. W. W. Cross, Provincial Minister of Health and Public Welfare, and Hon. Solon E. Low Address Crowd at Pavilion

Strong appeals for support from all those "desiring monetary reform" were made by Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, Provincial Minister of Health and Public Welfare, and Hon. Solon E. Low, Provincial Treasurer, at a public meeting sponsored by the Lacombe Constituency Social Credit Association Monday night. Approximately three hundred attended the meeting to hear the cabinet ministers roundly attack the present financial system and promise an economic system which will provide a decent standard of living for everyone "if you back us." Dr. Cross launched a verbal attack against all monopolies and combines, stating that under the present system "the primary producer has to be bonused to exist."

There is poverty today; poverty not from a scarcity of money, not from a scarcity of goods," the speaker declared and deplored the present system for its inability to provide enough money to buy goods. "We must have the primary producer up to the cost of production," the speaker declared.

The Minister of Health touched lightly on the present Provincial Treasury branches of the Province, stating they were designed to "increase purchasing power" to decrease poverty. He expressed optimistic hopes that they would fulfill this purpose. "We have to keep up this fight until we make the Federal Government issue debt-free money," he declared, "or let us make it ourselves."

The speaker then switched to state medicine and its problems, stating that "we intend working up slowly to state medicine." He said that already the Provincial Government provided free relief for poliomyelitis cases as well as tubercular treatments, and he promised that "other diseases will be taken over shortly." He expressed the hope that the government may take over cancer, treating it under state care.

Hon. Solon E. Low gave statistics to show that the public debt (Continued on Page Six)

Local Blacksmith Business Sold

Mr. Claude Rowe left last Friday for Trail, B.C., after selling his blacksmith business here to Mr. A. Akey, formerly of Provost, Alta. Mr. Rowe, it is understood, will return home from British Columbia in two weeks, at which time he is expected to move his family permanently to a more moderate climate.

Mr. Rowe is extremely well known throughout the Lacombe district, having lived here for close to thirty years.

Clive School Fair Awards Given

CLIVE.—Complications arose from the Clive Rural School Fair held in September regarding the awarding of the scholarships to the Clive Agricultural School, given annually to the boy and girl with the highest number of individual points in the agricultural classes. Lois Nesbit and Albert Wagner, both of Clive, were the high scorers in these agricultural classes at this year's fair, but both students are ineligible to attend the Olds short course, as both are under the necessary age of 13 years.

As a result of this minimum age ruling, Eva Van Eaton of Clive was pronounced winner of the girls' scholarship; no boys qualified as to the age limit, and this award for boys was consequently dropped this year.

G. A. Holeton, of the Department of Education, in charge of the Clive Agricultural School, stated that winners of these scholarships must have a minimum of thirty points to their credit, but that this minimum would be increased to fifty points for the 1939 fair.

Resolutions Passed At Social Credit Convention

Resolutions passed at the Social Credit convention here Monday were:

"Resolved that we request the Provincial Government to consider ways and means by which the primary producer of foodstuffs may secure a more equitable share of the consumer's dollar, and to this end we suggest that the present marketing legislation be carefully studied, not only from the viewpoint of securing higher prices for the producer but also, the development of such interprovincial trade as may make available to consumers in the low income groups the benefits of surpluses now going to waste and being destroyed, such as the fruits and vegetables of British Columbia so sorely needed in the prairie provinces."

"Whereas it is becoming increasingly difficult to obtain employment in industry; and whereas purchasing power or even the means to sustain life is for the vast majority dependent upon work or relief, with resulting hardship and degradation to both youth and middle age; and whereas increased individual income is a vital need in rural as well as urban life;

"Therefore be it resolved that as an aid to the present intolerable situation the pensionable age be lowered to 60 years and that adequate non-contributory pensions be financed by the Dominion Government through the issue of debt free money, using for that purpose the Bank of Canada."

"Resolved that we express our appreciation of the action of the government in establishing the Gas Conservation Board and in the appointment of a Royal Commission (Continued on Page Six)

Fire Destroys O. Schlines' Home East of Lacombe

Fire, which it is believed started in the stove pipe, completely destroyed the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schlines, residing about seven or eight miles northeast of Lacombe, last Thursday afternoon. The family, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Schlines and one daughter, Alma, was away at the time the fire occurred, about 3:30 p.m. Nothing was saved, the family's winter and all household effects being completely consumed in the flames. At present the family are living with near neighbors.

Pays Official Visit To C.G.I.T. Girls

Miss Lillian Carscadden, secretary of the Girls' Work Board, paid an official visit to the three C.G.I.T. groups in Lacombe on Thursday. Games and contests during the afternoon were followed by supper, after which Miss Carscadden talked informally to the girls on several phases of the C.G.I.T. program.

"Of prime importance," said the speaker, "is the correct wearing of the C.G.I.T. uniform, which prohibits jewelry and the wearing of make-up. Paraphrase repetition of the C.G.I.T. Purpose—which is 'to Cherish Health, Seek Truth, Know God and Serve Others,' is of no use, but thought should be given to its meaning, and each member try to measure her life by its standard."

Interesting experiences and activities of other groups in the province, which has a membership of 4200 girls, were related by Miss Carscadden.

Social Credit Convention Held Here Monday

D. B. MacMillan Strongly Supports Larger School Unit Plan; Says Petition "Politics"

"The larger school unit is an effort on the part of the Government to provide country children with the same educational advantages which are offered today in our cities," declared D. B. MacMillan, local M.L.A., in his annual report to the delegates attending the Lacombe Constituency Social Credit Association convention held in the Central Alberta Pavilion Monday afternoon. Thirty-four delegates were present at the convention.

Mr. MacMillan strongly supported the larger school unit scheme, declaring that it was put into effect to carry out the plank in the Social Credit platform of 1935, at the time the present government was elected. He termed as "petty politics" the circulation of a petition in the Municipal District of Crow regarding the formation of a larger school unit in this district, and stated: "I am glad that Premier Aberhart refused to grant people immunity from the larger school district. 'It was signed by a lot of people who didn't know what they were signing.' Mr. MacMillan emphasized. 'Two years from now you will have a chance to vote on this question. At the present time, the plans are laid and are being carried out,' the speaker said. 'It may cost you two or three mill more—I don't know—but isn't that cheaper than sending your children to city centers for their education?' he asked."

Paints Glowing Picture
Mr. MacMillan then went on to paint a glowing picture of the possibilities of this larger school unit plan, declaring that it was not improbable that specialized teachers in various subjects would visit each school in a large unit system to provide technical or specialized training.

Norman Jaques, M.P. for Wetaskiwin constituency, claimed that "within twelve months the very people who are now strongest against monetary reform will be the strongest ones in favor of it." He declared that monetary reform will sweep this country, and commented briefly on the reform party being led by W. D. Herridge. "Money is being debunked," said the speaker, and stated that the days of orthodox finance are numbered.

Delegates were elected to the Wetaskiwin Divisional Conference, to be held in Lacombe early in December, as follows: C. E. Webb, Lake Bend; Mrs. S. D. Scott, Floy; Wilkes, Mrs. L. R. Barrett and V. Carter; C. E. Webb was elected to represent this constituency at the Social Credit Convention in Edmonton this winter.

Officers of the Social Credit Association here were elected as follows: President, T. F. Roberts; Vice-President, V. Carter; Secretary-Treasurer, J. Russell; auditor, Mrs. S. D. Scott.

With a splendid attendance of old and young business men of Lacombe, which gave more heart to those who initiated the movement, plans for the Christmas season were enthusiastically discussed and made at a meeting called in the Town Hall last Tuesday night, whereby a welcome will be accorded shoppers to Lacombe during the coming Christmas season. Arrangements were made for the Santa Claus visit to the town, and complete details are now being worked out, to be published later.

A committee was appointed to work out the plan discussed, which received the unanimous approval of those in attendance. J. S. McCormick presided over the meeting, with Art Cottrell as secretary.

For Your Protection

MEMBERS of the local fire brigade and Town employees have already started on their annual check-up of the stove pipes, stoves and furnaces in the town. This check-up is made each year, and suggestions as to removal of possible fire hazards are made by the inspectors. The check-up is made in the interests of the residents of the town in an endeavor to keep to a minimum the fire loss of the town.

Full co-operation should be given these men on this check-up, for their investigations mean added protection for you. Any suggestion as to the removal of hazards should be acted upon, both for your safety and for the safety of others.

It is to your benefit that the fullest co-operation be extended to the inspectors.

A Dangerous Practice

A WOMAN at Olds proved again that it is dangerous to pour oil from a can onto a fire. The can exploded, and she died in the hospital, leaving her husband and two small children—thus reads a clipping from a recent issue of an Alberta daily newspaper.

How long will it take the general public to learn that oil and fires do not mix? Five years information on the dangers of this practice has been distributed to the public at large—through the schools, the newspapers, the radios, and through magazines and pamphlets. Usage of oil in this manner causes more disastrous and sometimes fatal fires than any other single practice. It is a dangerous practice, and some people make a steady practice of starting fires in this manner, but it is asking for trouble any way you look at it. Moral: Don't do it.

A Policy of Preparedness

ONE outcome of the recent Czechoslovakian crisis is the new impetus given to the re-arming of Great Britain's fighting forces. Pitiful stories of the inadequacy of defensive units guarding Britain's metropolitan centers have been given in the House of Commons. Stories of battalions without guns and of guns without ammunition, have all been gnat for the mill of criticism which has engulfed the British Government. Some of the criticism may have been warranted.

One thing, though, is certain—that these deficiencies, stated to be so glaring in the immediate past, will be corrected in the immediate future. War Minister Hore-Belisha states emphatically that the re-arming of Britain will be doubled and trebled to place the British defensive forces on a par with any other nation in the world. And as Hore-Belisha gives this challenge to the world, protests of the unfairness of this action spring from Germany and from Italy—the very two countries forcing the democracies of the world to re-arm. This aspect of the re-arming is amusing, but the fact that Great Britain must re-arm, and re-arm forcibly, is far from amusing.

The country stands behind the Government, however—and two years from now Great Britain will be in the position to meet might with might on better than equal terms if need arises.

Preserving Historic Homes

(From the Christian Science Monitor)

A FURTHER step is shortly to be taken by the National Trust in its effort to preserve the famous and beautiful country houses of Britain. It is presenting a bill to Parliament that, if passed, will free entailed property for ownership by the Trust, and so enable the latter to extend the scheme by which it takes over historic houses, and allows the owners to continue in occupation.

Some unentailed properties are already held on such conditions by the Trust, and the results have been very satisfactory.

Fundamentally, this ever-growing stewardship by a non-official body, operating by consent, and as the friend of both the family and the state, at a time when to talk of nationalizing property would be to let fall a weighty proposition on a good many toes—this is a compromise worthy of the nation's traditional talent. It is almost a stroke of genius; and the proof lies in the support that the Trust receives from every shade of opinion, and that will, no doubt, be exemplified once again in the passing of this bill.

Through the Eyes of a Country Woman

By BRIDGET

Twenty years ago tomorrow, at the eleventh hour, of the eleventh day, of the eleventh month of the year, the Armistice halting the Great War of 1914-1918 was signed.

To many of us it is as yesterday; we can hear the sirens of the boats shrieking the tidings, the bells clanging forth the message of "Peace" from the belfries. To many it is as nothing, for a new generation has grown up, to whom the Great War is merely a rather boring topic of conversation which those ancient "fossil" people will indulge in when gathered together.

What has this twenty-year respite brought us? Some have found peace, passing over to join their beloved young sons who were cut off in the flower of their youth, or to their men who should not have gone at all. To those of us who lived through that hell, what have the years brought? Disillusionment, disgust, and the bitter realization that our sacrifice and pain were all in vain. It is a bitter thought, we really thought we were fighting a good fight, fighting to win peace. But, has peace been so sweet during the last twenty years when all the nations of the world have been at peace?

Perhaps if the whole world really observed two minutes' silence tomorrow at 11 o'clock, and contemplated the futility of war, some solution might be found. Believe me, that two minutes' silence would not be wasted if spent in reflection.

What have we gained by being in the position to dictate "peace" terms in 1919? What have the twenty years done to the "vanquished" nation? That same nation now dictates the terms; scrapping the whole Peace Treaty, and taking every thing taken from her by way of punishment in 1919 at Versailles. For what did the thousands upon thousands of men, young and old, give their lives? For absolutely nothing! Bitter thought!

In 1914 Germany was trying to dominate Europe; in 1938 she DOES dominate, and dictate to the powers of Europe.

"Peace" was not gained in 1918; only a cessation of active and direct hostilities, an armistice; that is all we have today, with the position of twenty years ago reversed.

Why will the powers that be declare a holiday on November 11th? It should be no holiday for merry-making; it should be a day on which the whole world should pause for a moment and reflect on the carnage of '14-'18; a day on which children should be taught the beastliness and horror of war. We hear so much about the necessity of educating the masses, and yet the finest opportunity is given on November 11th to drive home a lesson, and yet it is passed by. On November 11th, in every country, there are dances, merry-making and rejoicing. In Heaven's name, what have we got to make a celebration of? In 1918 it was understandable; everybody went with relief; but, twenty years after, we cannot but realize that peace has been gained. Every thing is just where it ever was. Armaments are being speeded up, the making of instruments of war is coming money for the select few.

Disarming, insofar as it was practiced, didn't work. This world is a "scorched" one; from the spider that woos the fly, and then eats it, to the nation that covets its neighbor's land, and annexes it by brute force.

We are not keeping faith with our boys who lie in Flanders Fields. They died for an ideal; to protect the weaker nation, to defend a people from aggression. Today, it is not politic to defend a persecuted people, so, the armistice holds, and the armament race is speeded up.

The world is busy cheering Mr. Chamberlain for the "peace" he has preserved; all he has done is to prolong the armistice until the time when Hitler is sure that he is absolute master of the world. The trouble with Chamberlain is that he, like Hitler, actually believes everything that he says. He approached Hitler as he would have done a fellow Englishman; he did not realize the calibre of the man with whom he was dealing. The conservative English statesman does not even trouble to learn to speak foreign languages, so how can he hope to carry on negotiations intelligently? Chamberlain's friendly gesture was despised by Hitler. Hendrik William Van Loon, writing on the subject, says: "Chamberlain has merely postponed the day of reckoning. . . England, as a result of Mr. Chamberlain's action, now surrenders her ancient leadership of the democratic ideals of the western world. . . If we (the United States) should fail in our duty, then God help humanity!"

Those who cheer Chamberlain's actions today may live to curse them tomorrow.

We, the British people who fought so long, and lost so much, to preserve peace, have now lost the right to dictate peace terms; and we are bequeathing to the young generation of today the prospect of the total loss of all democratic rights, or, war.

Any student of etiquette must have found the placing of the guests at the banquet following the signing of the "Munich Pact" very enlightening. The first and second places of honor, to the right and left of Der Fuhrer, were given to Benito Mussolini and Monsieur Daladier respectively, while Mr. Chamberlain was placed on Herr Goering's left!

These are all dark thoughts, and not ones about which we want to think. Let us pause tomorrow, and think these things over in the cold light of reason; for, if we do not, Heaven help us!

Let us remember the tens of thousands of crosses that stand in Flanders Fields, and keep faith with the ideals of democracy for which those who lie beneath them died.

'He who throws away the tinfoil of a cigarette package is a dirty dog.'—General Goering.

"This is the best non-essential organization that I have ever belonged to."—Judge Frank Seymour, newly-elected president, Bald Head Club of America.

Subsidies to Western Farmers Offset Tariff Protected East, Claim. Third Party Mooted

Canada's new Conservative leader is a man of his word. Three weeks ago he went West on a long series of interviews with Eastern business interests, the result of which was a tacit understanding that the word "revolution" would not pass his lips. He has returned from his Western tour without once having mentioned that "honey man" which so upset the temperamental prima donnas of St. James.

Tariff drains on the Western farmer's purse are recognized. To no less extent is it recognized that Eastern Canada is the main beneficiary of the tariff policy. The "milk cow" claims of the Saskatchewan farmers if they had been put in the past tense, dating back to the days of prairie prosperity might have been without some justice. But today the balance has swung over. The East is paying out compensation to the West to the tune of hundreds of millions of dollars.

Examples Shown

Here are a few examples. Subsidies to the Western farmer through the 80-cent minimum wheat price will cost the federal treasury an amount now estimated at something over $50,000,000.

Federal relief programs since 1930 have contributed more than $25,000,000 to Manitoba, $51,000,000 to Saskatchewan and some $10,000,000 to Alberta.

Federal loans to the Western provinces at September 30 stood at $21,389,000 for Manitoba, $51,240,000 for Saskatchewan and $28,079,000 for Alberta.

This money comes mainly from the income levies in one form or another on the tariff-protected industrialism of Eastern Canada. It is a part of that tariff compensation which, in the words of Dr. Manion, the West should expect from the East.

Another traveller in Western Canada whose activities are being watched with some interest from the capital is W. D. Herdridge. After the Conservative convention in July, where he tossed a few bombs into the complacent ranks of old-line Tories, Mr. Herdridge dropped mysteriously from the political picture. The first news in months that Ottawa received of his doings was when he boarded Dr. Manion's train and had breakfast with the leader. The coffee and toast conference, however, was apparently no party of reconciliation.

May Farm Third Party Mr. Herdridge, Ottawa, hears, has ambitious ideas for a new third party which would mean the left wing group from the Conservative ranks. Mr. Herdridge, it is said, is now wedded to monetary reform on a Social Credit basis—not the philosophy which Mr. Aberhart has established in Alberta, but another A present he is believed to be concentrating his attentions on Manitoba, where the Bracken Government is carrying on by benefit of its Social Credit allies. If his efforts could bring about an election in this province, the new party might suddenly blossom forth with its old assortment of bedfellows, including Social Crediters, Conservatives, Communists and C.C.F.

With Mr. Lapointe's announcement that Parliament would not be called before the New Year, the capital has settled down again to take advantage of the breathing spell. The pre-Christmas opening had undoubtedly been considered seriously enough to start departments' working overtime on estimates. The Government was evidently making tentative plans to launch its major achievement, the U.S. trade treaty, on the House, in an effort to get it working as soon after the expiration of the old agreement as possible. Hitches and delays at Washington are believed to have been a major factor in discarding the idea of the early session.

Among the many things which hinge on the completion of this trade treaty is government policy with regard to the Maritime fisheries. If Canada can get even half what she has asked at Washington in tariff concessions on cod and haddock, it is believed that the Government may be ready to launch some constructive plan to rehabilitate the fisheries. Unless some move is made, the Nova Scotia coast is likely to prove a fertile ground for opposition campaigning in a 1939 election.

Weddings

PIDHURNEY-MARSHALL

The United Church paragonage, Clive, was the scene of a pretty wedding Sunday morning, Nov. 6, when Mr. Fred J. Pidhurney of Lacombe and Gladys May Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Marshall of Ties, were united in marriage, Rev. G. A. Kettley, B.A., officiating.

The bride was becomingly gowned in pale blue-sheer. Her gown was floor length, just showing the tips of her silver slippers. The fine silk veil and orange blossom wreath had been worn by the bride's mother at her wedding many years ago.

Miss Lola Marshall, attired in light brown ensemble, was maid of honor, while Mr. Jacob Marshall acted as best man.

After a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Pidhurney will reside in Lacombe.

MAST-DOOL

A happy marriage was contracted at the United Church Manse, Lacombe, on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 26, when George Frederick Mast and Gladys Mae Dool, both of Lacombe, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Rev. A. L. Carr performing the ceremony. Witnessing the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. William Dool, parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mast, parents of the groom; Miss Irene Dool, Miss Beatrice Mast and Elmer Mast, and Miss Theresa M. Siegel of Calgary. After partaking of a sumptuous wedding dinner at the home of the groom's parents, the happy couple left for Edmonton for their honeymoon.

ORRELL-MOULTON

The marriage of Joseph S. Orrell and Miss Vilva Fay Moulton, both of Bentley, took place at the United Church Manse in Lacombe on Friday, Nov. 4, at 9:30 in the morning. The happy couple left by train for Calgary and Banff to spend a few days. Rev. A. L. Carr performed the ceremony.

ENEMY INTO FRIEND

This life of ours is far too short For harboring vindictive moods; Too brief for waging paltry feuds, For malices of any sort.

The strongest disputant is he Who has the moral strength to cease From controversy and make peace In honor and in amity.

Acting according to his lights, The stubborn man may lose a lot Who will not bate a single jot Of what he holds to be his rights.

It's often best to make an end Of bitterness at any cost, For him the fight has not been lost Who makes his enemy his friend.

Relief Grants Here Drown Slightly For Month of October

Sixteen families in the Town of Lacombe and the Municipal District of Crown received relief during the month of October this year, according to information received from the two municipal offices. During this same period in 1937, 27 families received relief. Of this year's number, 16 families were on the Town's relief rolls, a decrease of two from the corresponding period last year, and 13 families received relief from the M.D. Crown office, a decrease of nine.

The expense of these relief accounts totalled slightly over $200 this year, compared to $275 last year. If this year's sum, $251 was spent by the Town and $150 by the municipality for the month.

Goat Men Resent Calling Goats Little Kin to Lillies

SYRACUSE, N.Y.—Delegates to the annual meeting of the American Goat Society, Inc., set out to break down the comic strip idea that a goat is a malodorous creature living largely on a diet of tin cans, catalogues and old automobile tires.

Dr. A. C. Dahlberg, director of dairy research at the New York state agricultural experiment station, Geneva, declared that in the past 15 years goats have reached a high place in the economic life of the Nation's barnyard animals.

Goat raising, he said, has grown from a hobby to an industry valued in the millions, and employing hundreds of persons, while goat milk sells for 25 to 50 cents a quart. The delegates had goat meat as the main course for the convention banquet.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

At all Christian Science churches next Sunday, the subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Mortals and Immortals." One of the Scriptural quotations in the Lesson-Sermon is I. One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, is: "Learn this, O mortal, and earnestly seek the spiritual status of man, which is outside of all material selfhood" (p. 476).

Tees Tattle Tales

By TATTLER

TEES.—Last Friday evening practically the whole town of Tees—at least the denizens—pulled a raid on the chickens raised in the Nebraska district. Boy-o-boy, was that a feed! After the dishes were cleared away and a sale of home necessities disposed of, a concert was put on by the people of the district. The building was packed. About $85 was realized by the Ladies' Aid at this affair.

Monday night, just to show that the Tees people like their chickens, a gang pulled off a night raid over at Clive, just to see if Clive can produce as good cooks as they have in the little hamlets and country. It was a real good supper and some stayed to enjoy the concert afterwards. But the controversy now stands like this—we don't know if the food we polished off came from the country ladies or the urban ladies. And we have no way of finding out, as our wives evidenced our bliss Tuesday and the wash was then destroyed.

Reduce Prices on Farm Implements

TORONTO.—Today Massey-Harris Company, through its Vice-President and General Manager, J. S. Duncan, announced price reductions on its line of farm equipment. "The Company is pleased to announce," states the message, "substantial list price reductions on Tractors and General Farm Machinery, effective November 1, 1938."

"The reductions are the result," says Mr. Duncan, "of a desire on the part of the company to share with its customers the benefits of economies effected, together with the savings resulting from the present slight decreases in prices of raw materials."

Reductions on Tractors range as high as $88.00 and on Grain Binders with enclosed gears the reductions range up to $10.50. The Open Gear Binder selling for $25.00 less than the Enclosed Gear Model, are some of the reductions.

CALGARY.—When Calgary's Bronks journey eastward for the second and final game in the Western Rugby Conference at Winnipeg next Saturday they will face a five-point deficit by taking a beating to the tune of 12-7 of defeat from last season still burns here last Saturday. Yet, it will be a confident squad facing that deficit and the Winnipeg team will have to really fight if they are looking to retain their 1937 laurels.

In the first encounter, Calgary displayed real nerve and succeeded in keeping phantom Hank in tow (they just naturally smothered him) but completely folded up in the last quarter to give the Pegsers the margin of victory. However, the sting of defeat from last season still burns in the Calgary boys' hearts, and they're out with all they have got to pull through with the Western championship tucked under their helmets. Remember Winnipeg lost his first game, last year, then came back to win the title. Maybe it's the Bronks' turn.

This ever modernizing world, with its streamlining, is now creeping into hockey. Not satisfied with Canada's own game as it has been in the past, the main idea now is to speed up the sport on the ice ways with speed, speed and more speed. This was the main idea when the governors of the N.H.L. gathered for a little late-a-late and the new rules that they added to the scroll want less whistle tooting. They put the O.K. on a new code of rules that is to govern play not only in the N.H.L. this season but also in the ranks of amateurs, and although efforts to put "hotter hoofin'" on the ice in the past haven't brought the winged skates they anticipated, this new arrangement of rules should pull part of the trick.

The penalty shot introduction, which didn't cut much of a sensation when introduced, will this year permit the player to cross the line after he has shot as long as the puck is delivered before he crosses the line. That gives more odds to the chance of scoring and it allows the goalies to shoot, one will be awarded if the goalie holds the rubber more than three seconds, drops it into his pads or throws it for a souvenir to the crowd. In an effort to cut down off-sides, this winter will find the ice-makers pouring in the coloring liquid for a blue line one foot wide, with the edge as the off-side point, and besides this, they pull in the goal crease to seven feet by three instead of eight by five. A player is outside if his stick or body cross the blue line as long as his

Editor Declares News Presenting Steadily Better

CLEVELAND, Ohio—News papers are doing a better job than ever in making the world's most complicated news clear and informative for their readers and the readers are grateful, said George W. Healy, Jr., Managing Editor of the New Orleans Times-Picayune, at the closing session of the Associated Press Managing Editors' Association sixth annual convention.

"We have come a long way in gathering news," he said, "and we are learning to handle it more attractively than ever for the hurried reader. We still have things to learn, but we're learning them."

Previously Kent Cooper, A.P. General Manager, predicted the newspaper of the future—perhaps in 10 years—would devote only half its editorial contents to type. The other half will be in pictures, he said.

Mr. Cooper envisioned a day when the present wirephoto, one of the major developments of the twentieth century, might be outmoded. He said he expected the future would bring transmission of matrices of photographs, ready for immediate stereotyping and publication. Now it is necessary that the wirephoto picture be first translated into a zinc photo-engraving.

A Recipe For Seashore Chowder

All the tang of open boats and the salt spray running high is transported to your own home with this delicious and popular Seashore Chowder. Serve it in generous bowls with some sweet pickles, and follow with sliced tomatoes.

Seashore Chowder
One slice fat salt pork, 1 large or 2 medium-sized onions, 2 cups diced raw potatoes, 1½ pounds Canadian halibut, 2 cups milk, 2 tablespoons butter, salt and pepper to taste.

Fry out the salt pork, remove the crackles, and cook the onion gently for five minutes. Cook the potatoes in boiling water until almost done, add the fish, cut in pieces, and cook until the fish is done. Remove any skin and bones. Add the onion, milk, butter and heat, but do not boil. Roll soda biscuits and place in tureen, pour the chowder on top and serve at once.

MULTIPLYING GOOD SEED

Two years ago the Okotoks Junior Wheat Club started operations with 18 members and 80 bushels registered wheat of the variety known as Red Buds 222, supplied by the Alberta Wheat Pool.

P. Berger, leader of the Okotoks club, has figures to show that in two years members of the club produced 52,000 bushels of pure seed.

This is the type of seed improvement work that some 1500 boys, who are members of the 70 Junior Wheat Clubs operating in Alberta this year, have been doing to better the output of wheat from Alberta farms.

Scientific agriculturists have commented on the fact that wherever a Junior Wheat Club is operating, improvement is soon noted in the seed being sown in the district. Due, in a large measure, to the activity of these Junior Wheat Clubs, the quality of the wheat seed being sown on Alberta farms is steadily improving from year to year.

A PRAYER for "SENSE OF HUMOR"
"Give us a good digestion Lord, And also something to digest. Give us a healthy body, Lord, With sense to keep it at its best. Give us a healthy mind, good Lord,
To keep the good and pure in sight;
Which seeing sin is not appalled, But finds a way to set it right. Give us a mind that is not hard, That does not whimper, whine or sigh.
Don't let us worry overmuch
About the fussy thing called I. Give us a sense of humor, Lord; Give us the sense to see a joke, To get some happiness from life, And pass it on to other folk.
WILLING TO HELP
Culprit: "It may have been five or it may have been six o'clock. I've got no idea of time."
Magistrate: "H'm! I may be able to give you some."

of Alberta had not been increased since the present government took office. He claimed a surplus in all accounts in the year 1936 of approximately $400,000, and declared that a further surplus was shown in 1937. He condemned past government for their system of keeping government accounts, stating that surpluses were claimed by those governments, when, in truth, a deficit had been suffered.

He asked full hearty support of Provincial Treasury branches, which he claimed was an interim program and which assured well of success. He described briefly the set-up of these Treasury branches, claiming that they offered all facilities which a bank did. These branches, he said, "would be as safe as a bank—but they would also be banks." "They are intended," he emphasized, "to increase purchasing power, and will provide service at cost."

"Another purpose for which these branches were opened," he said, "was to acquire people with some other negotiable instrument other than the currency in use today." The provincial treasurer urged the people to use these branches, claiming that they would provide "all the services provided by the banks."

Branch for Lacombe He promised that a Provincial Treasury branch would be opened in Lacombe at an early date, but failed to set any definite time at which this branch would start operations here.

"If you want results, all you have to do is keep on demanding them," he concluded.

Norman Jaques, M.P., spoke briefly, and prophesied "monetary reform here within twelve months." He claimed it was one thing or the other—"either we have monetary reform—immediately—or else we face a dictatorship."

D. B. MacMillan, M.L.A. for this riding, acted as chairman of the meeting. On the platform also was T. F. Roberts, president of the Social Credit Association in this district.

Wash Day Comes Every Day On Little Isle of Urk

AMSTERDAM.—The cleanliness of the Netherlands is proverbial. Especially among the peasantry. One hears stories about women scrubbing brick-paved courts on Saturday nights and about the cow tails which are tied up with a string in the shed to keep the tails from trailing on the ground. In the parts of the Netherlands where clogs are worn no one enters a house in the country, he it ever so humble, without leaving his or her wooden shoes at the doorstep.

In the Island of Urk, every day is wash day. The inhabitants are mostly fishermen.

Birds find their mates by sight and voice. Same as man.

BEAUTY PROBLEMS

DISCUSSED BY

Barbara Lynn

Eminent Beauty Authority and Adviser, who writes weekly articles on Beauty Problems for many Canadian Newspapers.

I make my bow to the readers of this paper with pleasure. My daily mailbag already testifies to the tremendous interest in the subject of Beauty, and after all,
who can be surprised at it?

Where is the girl or woman who doesn't wish to improve her appearance? Not all of us can achieve outstanding beauty, but we CAN make the most of what we have. Care and regular attention to one's appearance will enable even the plainest woman to look nice.

What ARE the problems that worry most women in regard to beauty? There are no end to them, if my mailbag is any criterion! Some of them, of course, recur far more often than others.

Slimming!
Obesity, for instance, seems to trouble a multitude of women.
The demand for slimming guide-ance never falters. There are so many amateur slimming methods that it is no wonder that women who are troubled with excess poundage get baffled, and are eager to write to a beau-tifulian for some simple, straightforward advice.

Then there are those who whilst not corpulent, wish to reduce in one part of their body—
perhaps the hips, or the thighs, legs or arms.

Superfluous hair is a very real blemish and a gnawing worry to those afflicted by it. Skin blemishes, wrinkles, hair troubles, undeveloped or sagging busts; I could go on recapitulating them indefinitely.

And how often do we read of
them, if my mailbag is any criterion! Underweight? Not often, yet it is a grave problem to quite a number of women.

In these weekly articles I shall take up the various beauty problems one by one.

Won't you please write and let me know how you like them? I never tire of receiving letters from readers. And don't hesitate to ask my help in your personal beauty problems.

Sometimes there are problems that are too intimate to be dealt with in newspaper articles, others that can be broached in only a general way. By writing to me, you can be quite sure that your letter will be treated confidentially and a personal reply sent you direct under plain cover
if you enclose a 3c stamp.

The following special leaflets have been prepared and you may obtain any of them by sending a 3c stamp for each one required: How to Slim; Underweight; The Face and Its Care; Spots—Thighs, Legs, Hips, etc.;
Hand Beauty; Bust Development;
Caring for the Feet; Your Hair; Eye Beauty. These leaflets are up-to-the-minute and deal exhaustively with their subjects.
When writing please mention the name of this paper.

Address your letters to:
Barbara Lynn, P.O. Box 75,
Station B, Montreal, Que.

Take It Easy There, Mamma

Mamma Lion is not ill-treating her baby. That's the way to lift a lion cub, and although you might not believe it, she's as gentle as can be with the little one. How would you like to have a lion cub as a pet? Clyde Beatty, the famous trainer, says they make very affectionate pets, and he should know. But he didn't say what they were like to have around the house when they grew up.

Blessed be the inventor of the clover leaf traffic intersection.
Instead of being trapped in a vicious circle, the weary motorist now has the choice of three.—

Athabasca Bye-Election

therefore likely to find favour; Social Credit propaganda, including speaking tours by Aberhart and most of his cabinet, and a flood of copies of Hon. Lucien Maynard's own weekly newspaper, edited purposely for the electors, reached a new high mark.

Much provincial road work and Aberhart's announcement of a write-off of ancient debts owing to the Government came at just the right time for Social Credit purposes.

One Great Factor
There was one great factor in favor of the Liberal candidate, it was declared, and that was that Mr. Whiteley himself is highly popular personally even with political opponents, whereas Mr.
Tade, having been the dispensary of political patronage and relief and having been named as candidate after being defeated in the primaries, was not so popular with voters.

It is not expected that the newly-elected member for Athabasca will be able to take his seat in the Legislature session which opens next Tuesday, Nov. 15, because of the short time left to complete election formalities.

It became known definitely during the last few days that the Aberhart Government was planning some form of refunding policy for the Province's $160-000,000 debt. Provincial Treasurer Hon. Solon Low had been active in that direction for some time, but would never admit that his visits to the east and south had anything to do with refunding.

Unexpectedly it became known that refunding plans had been placed in care of two more "experts," neither of them widely known to financial interests. One is a Californian, Harold B. Reed of Los Angeles, president of the Municipal Bonding Company of that city. The other is J. J.
Sousa, whose address in orders-in-council passed by the cabinet providing for payments of expenses for the two "experts" is given as Calgary, although he also has lived in California until recently,
it is stated.

The cabinet passed special warrants to provide slightly less than $2,000 for the use of these "experts" as a starter.

FLASHES FROM SPORT CENTRES

When the Yanks and Cubs tangled in the World Series of '32 the New Yorkers won in four straight. The Yankees must have figured it was old-home town week this season. "Ain't English wonderful" or "Baseball in slang": Annie Oakley—base on balls; Blind Tom—empires; Clin-ker—error; Can of Corn—high, lazy fly; Barker, coach at first base; Yodeler—coach on third base.

T.N.T. HOCKEY CLUB ORGANIZES

The T.N.T. Hockey Club held its annual meeting at the home of Ned Chapman, last week.
Officers elected for the coming season were: Ned Chapman, manager; Sid Hampton, coach;

Harold Burden, captain. Plans for the purchase of the old Junior White Wings' sweaters were made. Practices will be held as soon as ice is available. All young hockeyists wishing to become members of the club are cordially invited to attend these pre-season workouts.

MASSEY-HARRIS REDUCES FARM IMPLEMENT PRICES

"Massey-Harris Company is pleased to announce substantial list price reductions on Tractors and General Farm Machinery, effective November 1st, 1938.

"The reductions are the result of a desire on the part of the Company to share with its customers the benefits of economies effected, together with the savings resulting from the present slight decreases in prices of raw materials.

"That these reductions will be of material benefit to the farmer who needs to replace his machinery is evidenced by the fact, that according to sizes, reductions on Tractors range as high as $86.00, on One-Way Disc Seeders up to $15.00, on Grain Drills as much as $12.50,
and on Enclosed Gear Binders up to $10.50,
with the Open Gear Binder selling for $25.00
less than this model.

"It is gratifying to Massey-Harris, whose interests are so closely linked with those of the farmer, to be able to make these reductions at this time."

Relief Grants Discussed at M.D. Lamerton Meeting

Discussion on relief grants and allowances occupied most of the time at a regular meeting of the Municipal District of Lamerton, held in the municipal offices at Alis Saturday. A large number of relief applications were handled, and it was definitely decided that families with children of over 16 years of age should receive less in relief grants than those where the children are all under the 16-year old age.

A motion by Councillor Hecht authorized the reeve to "have all squatters on municipal lands removed." A further motion raised the allocation for public works expenditure to $3,000, such sum to be proportionately divided between the divisions. A bounty of ten cents per pair of magpie feet from Nov. 1, 1938, to April 1, 1939, was decided upon by motion.

The court of revision for the municipality will meet on Dec. 6 and 7 at the Legion Hall, Alis, it was decided by motion.

of the Calgary Technical School, spoke on "General Shop," and emphasized the fact that while some children are scholastic minded, many others are "hand-minded," and the latter type particularly needed an opportunity to work and make things with their hands. There would be fewer misfits in life, he believed, and consequently less unemployment and a happier social life, if young men and women had been properly equipped according to their capabilities to take their place in society.

The General Shop in connection with the school offered opportunities, at small cost, for training in the primary principles of opportunities at law and order, cleanliness, in addition to giving to the child the supreme satisfaction of being able to create something with his own hands.
